Objectives of the Course	By studying and researching living history; Knowing the world will guide us how to make our future. For those who do not know the past, their future can not be bright and successful. Historical developments, together with the causes, need to be discussed and evaluated. Historical events are closely related to the social, cultural and economic structure of the time period. Without examining these values, it can not be said that historical events are considered realistic without looking at the relationship between them. It is incompatible with historical knowledge to look at historical events with present opportunities. We need to know in what historical conditions the Turkish Revolution was carried out that we can grasp the miracles of our existence.
Contents of the Course	To overcome the love of the nation and the homeland to the youth of the university and to follow the principles of Atatürk: to make them grow up as Atatürk young people, to develop the consciousness of democracy and to understand what stages we have reached through the level of modern democratic administration. To give attitudes, behaviors and talents to the Turkish youth, which will bring the solutions of the present and future problems with the Atatürk approach.

Learning Outcomes of Course

#	Learning Outcomes
1	The 1789 French Revolution and the nationalism, equality, freedom, justice and human rights that spread throughout the world and the influence of nations of different religions, languages and ethnicities within the borders of the Ottoman Empire.
2	This period, known as Tanzimat-ı Hayriye in our history (1839), was a turning point in the history of Turkish modernization and it was expected to provide the following: 1- Whatever religion belongs to the nation, all the living in the Ottoman country will have a guarantee of life, race and honor. 2 - Everyone shall have the right to property and shall be protected by the State in favor of the individual. 3- All of these will be given equality to the subjects of various religions and nations.
3	Recent ideas in the Ottoman Empire. - Ottomanism - Turkism - Westernization - Islamism
4	After making necessary corrections on the draft constitution that Mithat Pasha presented to the Sultan, 7 Zilhice 1293 (23 December 1876) coincided with the opening day of the conference and was officially approved by the Sultan. The proclamation of the constitutional monarchy is great joy in every class right.
5	The pressure of the Great Powers, which emerged during the implementation of the 1878 Berlin Treaty, led the Ottoman administration to a special foreign policy understanding. At that time, the ruling Sultan II. Abdülhamid had adopted as a principle to prevent the complete breakup of the country. This policy also took a step back when it was difficult to get a result. In this process, Tunisia, the Egyptian, the British invasion of the British do not show a strong reaction to the British administration to leave Cyprus because it expects profit in return, the East did not agree to give the Armenians in Anatolia. A remarkable point here is Sultan II. Abdulhamid's practice of the Berlin Treaty on foreign policy generally preferred the peaceful methods.
6	The First Constitutional Monarchy was declared on 23 December 1876, but the sultan defeated the Assembly on the defeat of the Ottoman-Russian War. II. During the 33-year rule of Abdülhamid II, the Young Turk movement strengthened and in July 1908, the Sultan urged the Constitutional Monarchy to reinstate. The 1908 Revolution was not only a phenomenon that brought Abdülhamid to an end, but also a turning point that brought about the collapse of the state. In the end, the sultan lost control of the events and could not stand the increased pressures more.
